ODD COUPLE

The drama year, after a somnolent beginning due to the conflicting schedules of actors, got off to a leaping start when the Thespians presented the rollicking laugh-riot knee-slapping "The Odd Couple." The Neil Simon broadway hit, which was transformed into an award-winning television series, was an exercise in comedy timing which our cast carried off with almost professional adroitness. The success was more meaningful to the cast, student directors and technical crew because they had assumed almost the full burden of production due to the fact that Mr. Charles W. Smith, director and drama head, was preoccupied with a personal production, the birth of his son Ian David, co-produced with his wife, Mary Ann. This kind of devotion and acceptance of responsibility, that of the Thespains, under all types of obstacles is the guts of what makes dramatics at Edgewood a worthwhile activity for those who are willing to make the personal sacrifice necessary in getting a production "on stage," a breed which is rare indeed.

Always looking for new and innovative ideas in dramatics, the Thespians entered into another "first" in local circles with the burgeoning of "Oklahoma." Prompted by a sparsity of male singer-actors and faced with contracts that could not be broken (i.e., royalties), Mr. Smith looked to the outside for assistance in rescuing the production. Fortune again smiled down upon us in the form of professional actors whom the Thespians were able to secure to come in and perform the major roles; the noted Philadelphia actor John Barth as Curly and Joan Wyler as Laurie. Talented semi-professional help also was rendered by Charles Bailey as Will Parker (Mr. Bailey has choreographed many shows in the Philadelphia area and also assumed this responsibility for us). Walt Babij, an alumni of our school, played Ali Halcim.

The students, somewhat reluctant at first to accept the idea, soon began to see the advantages of working with a "professional" cast. The obvious learning experience of working side by side with talented performers became more evident as rehearsal began and grew with each meeting. Only two or three other schools in the nation have attempted this sort of thing and each time it proved extremely successful from the viewpoint of a learning experience, and ours, arrived at quite accidentally, was no different.

The near-perfect, almost professional production brought to our district an opportunity to see, at prices easily afforded by all, a production they might never have been able to see and gave our student cast members the memorable experience of standing side-by-side with veteran actors and bask in the shared glory of applause that said "JOB WELL DONE!"

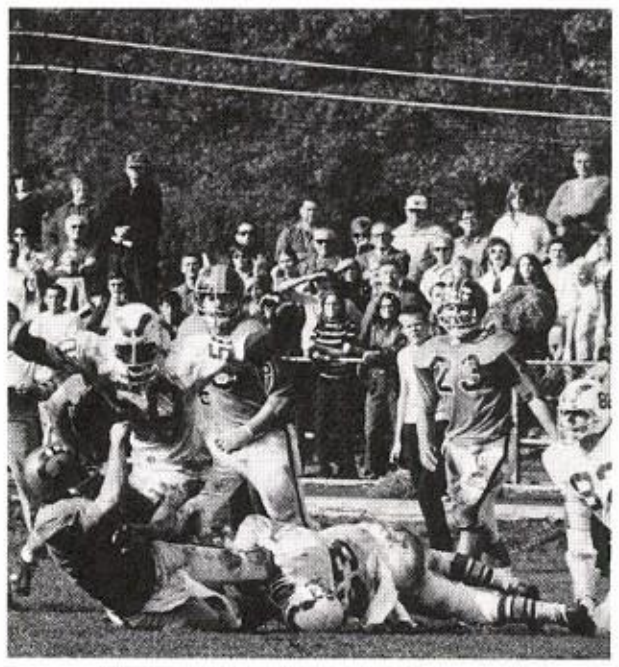
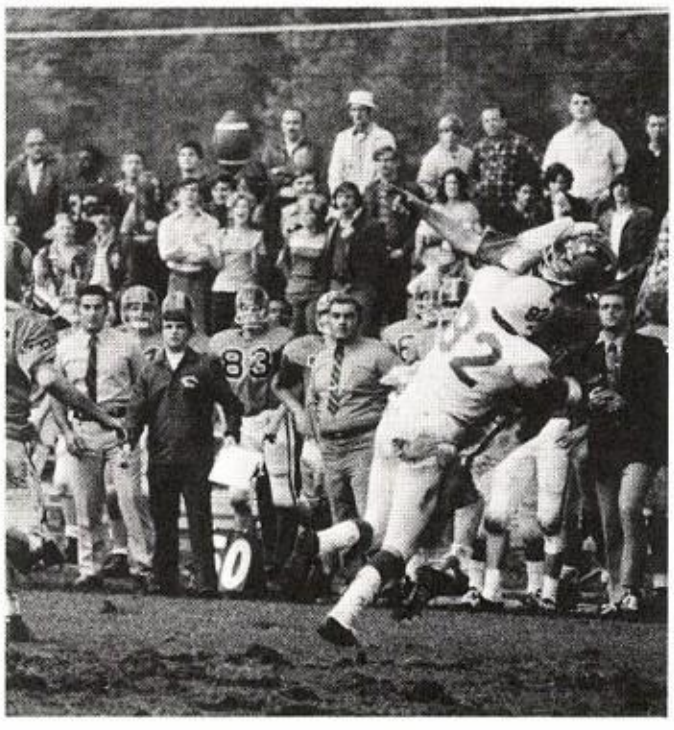
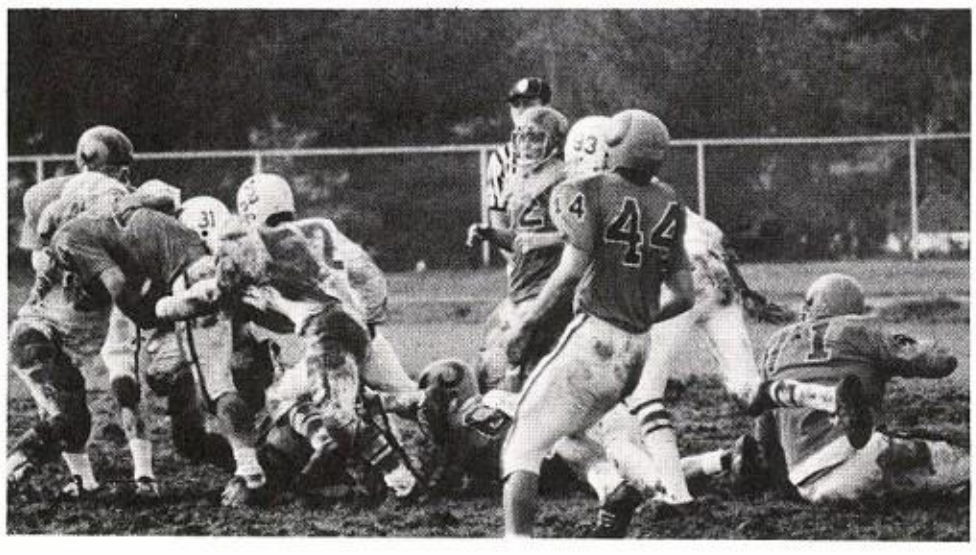
You can do it, Mark!!



Maybe next time, Darnell!



Overbrook is foiled again!



PeeWee rushes in for the tackle.

And even though we may not win every time we thank God that we're young, strong, alive and able to play.

What is a football team? They're just a group of young men doing their best at a sport they love. They're not infallible. They ask nothing from us except that we support and respect them whether they win or lose.

Even though we had a record of 3 wins and 6 losses, the number of games that were won cannot accurately convey the spirit generated by the team and their coaches.

So to you, the players and coaches of the 1971-1972 Edgewood Eagles we say thank you. You were an example for us all.

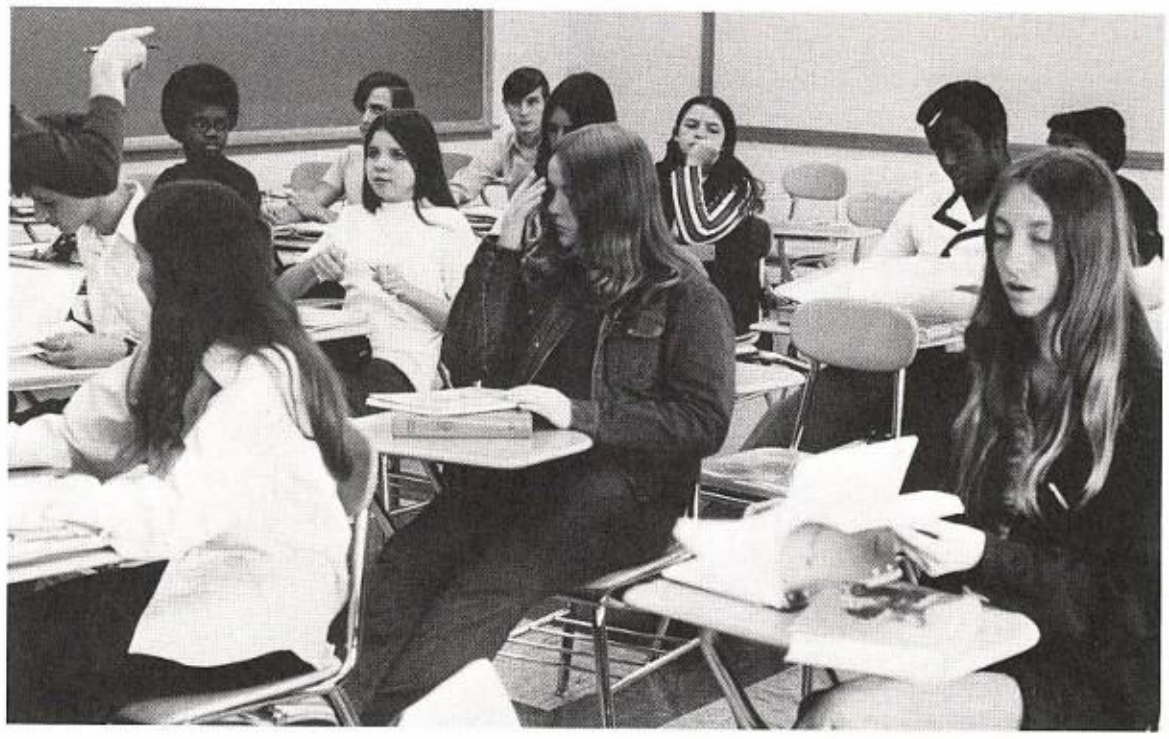
JUNIORS

SOPHS

FROSH

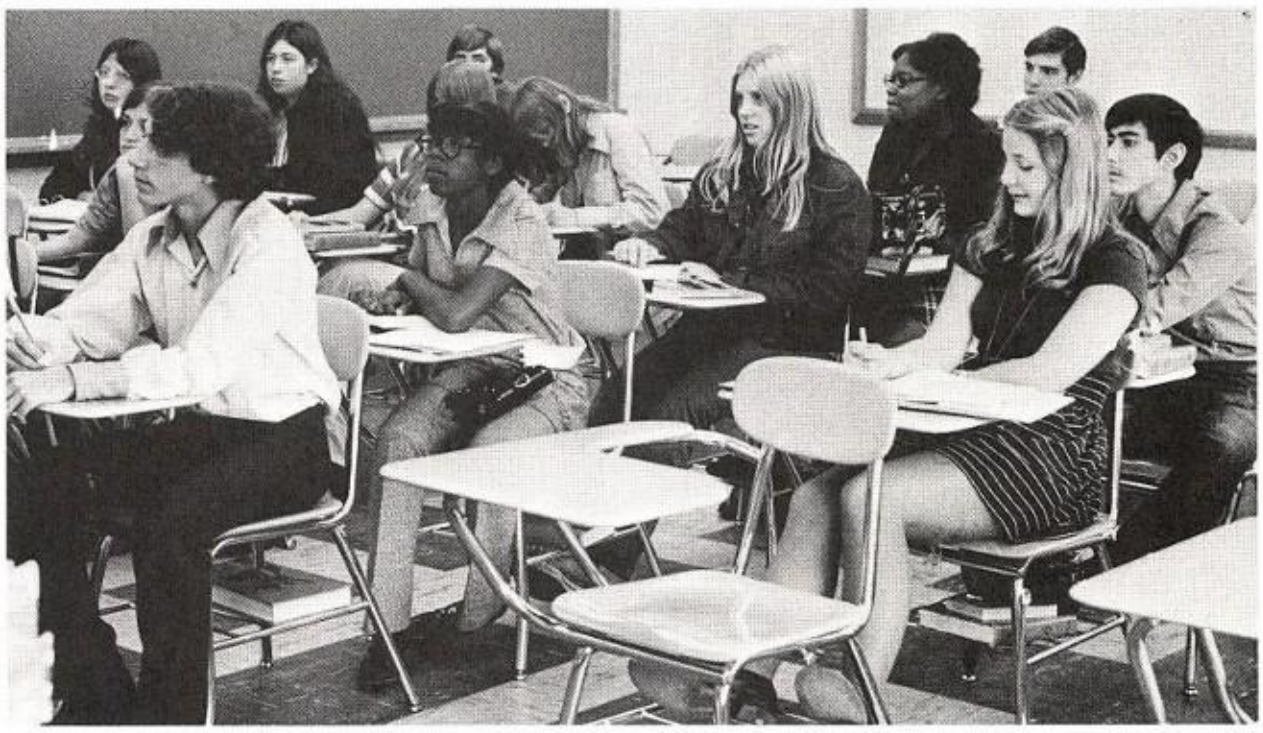


Has something Mrs. Bayles said caused Debbie to fall asleep?

Hang in there, Diane, you're gonna' make it yet.

The class experiences a geometric sitting design.

Hang in there, Hank!



How desolate and alone this empty seat . . .

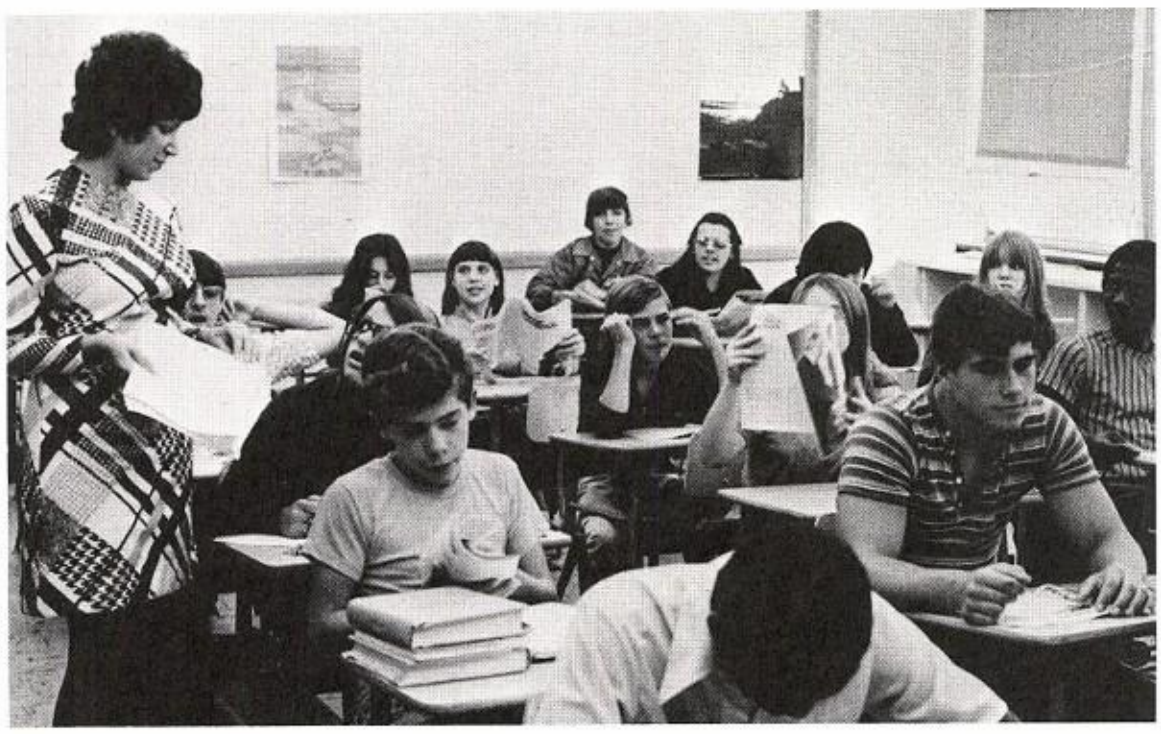
Enthusiasm abounds in this frosh class room.

Inquisitive minds dressed in sneakers grope for understanding.

The class concentrates intently on the teacher.

The students devour their lessons as they group anxiously around their teacher.

It's about that time, Jordon . . .



Miss Sampoli stands gracefully to build rapport within her class structure.

An in-class assignment clutches the students' attention.

What could Mr. Levak have said?

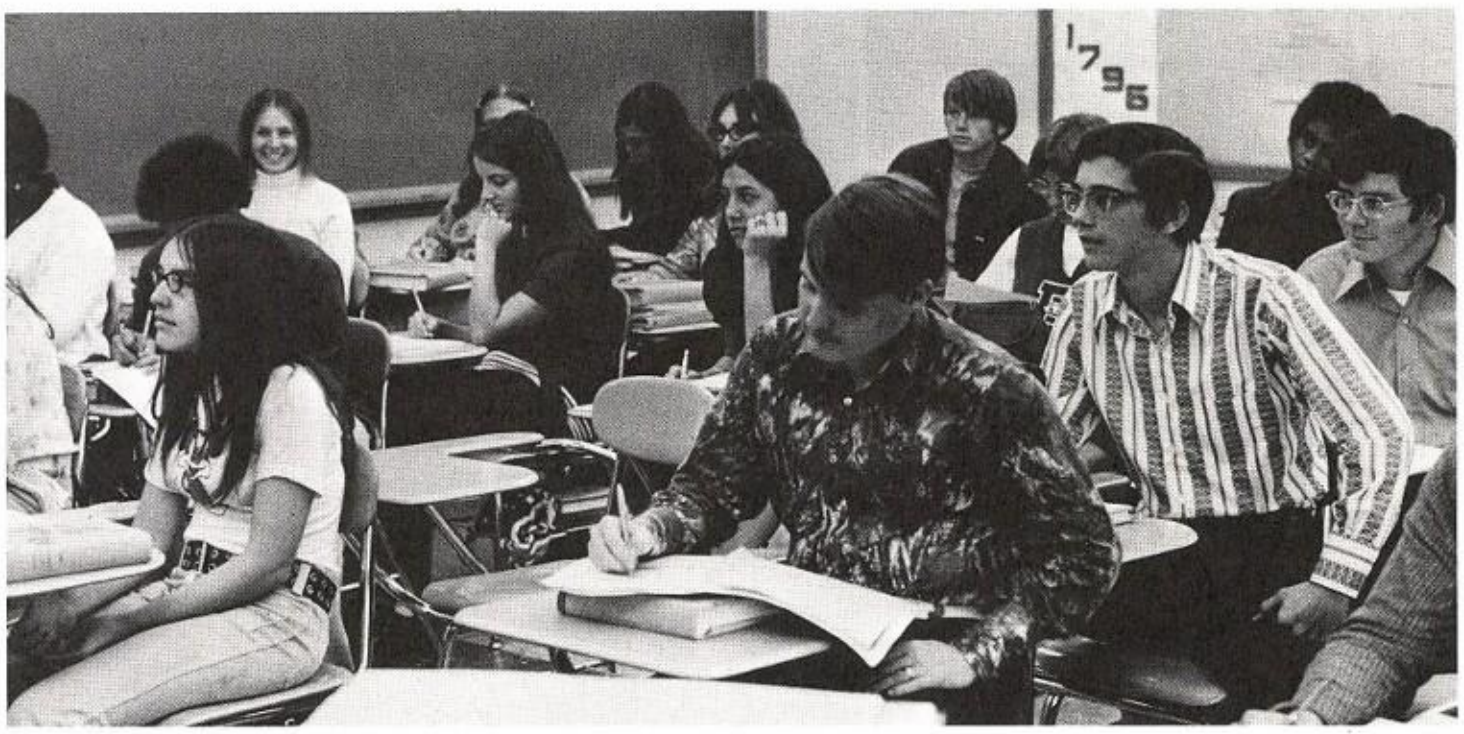
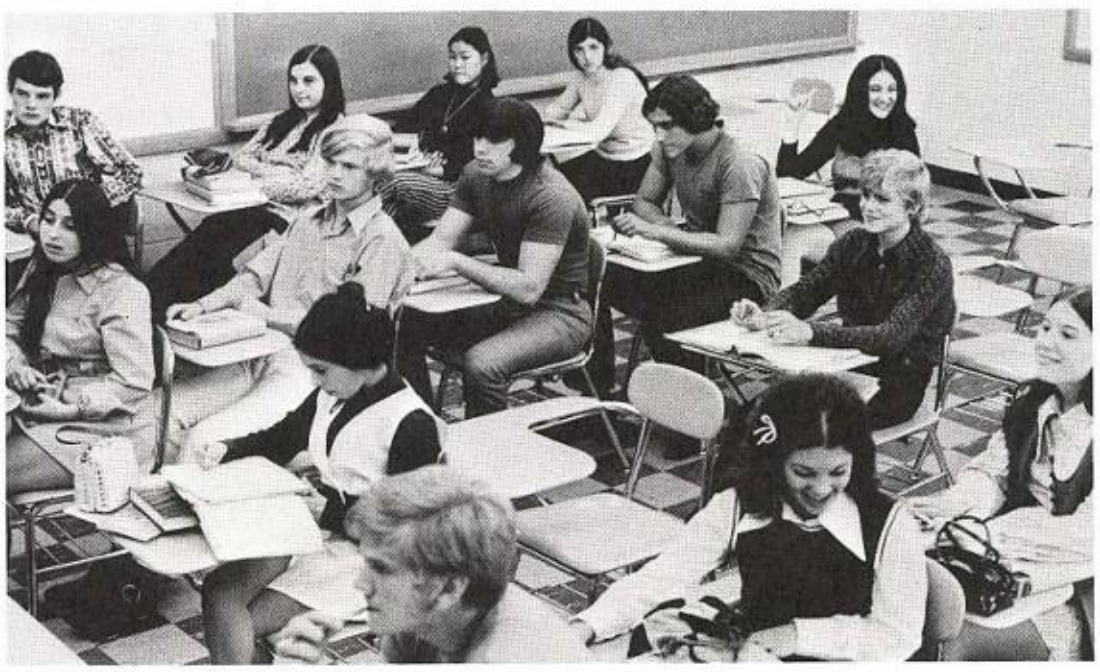
The eager faces of the children mirror the intriguing inspiration of their reading.

The class shares a salacious secret.

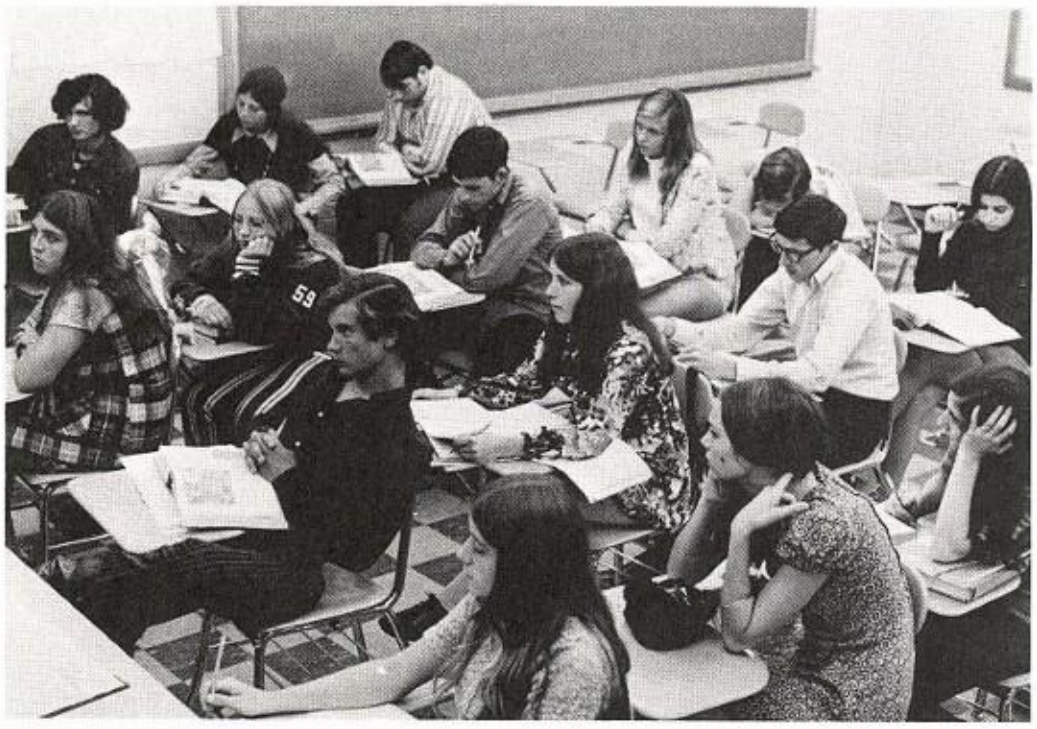
This junior class concentrates intently under the supervision of Mr. Tomasello.



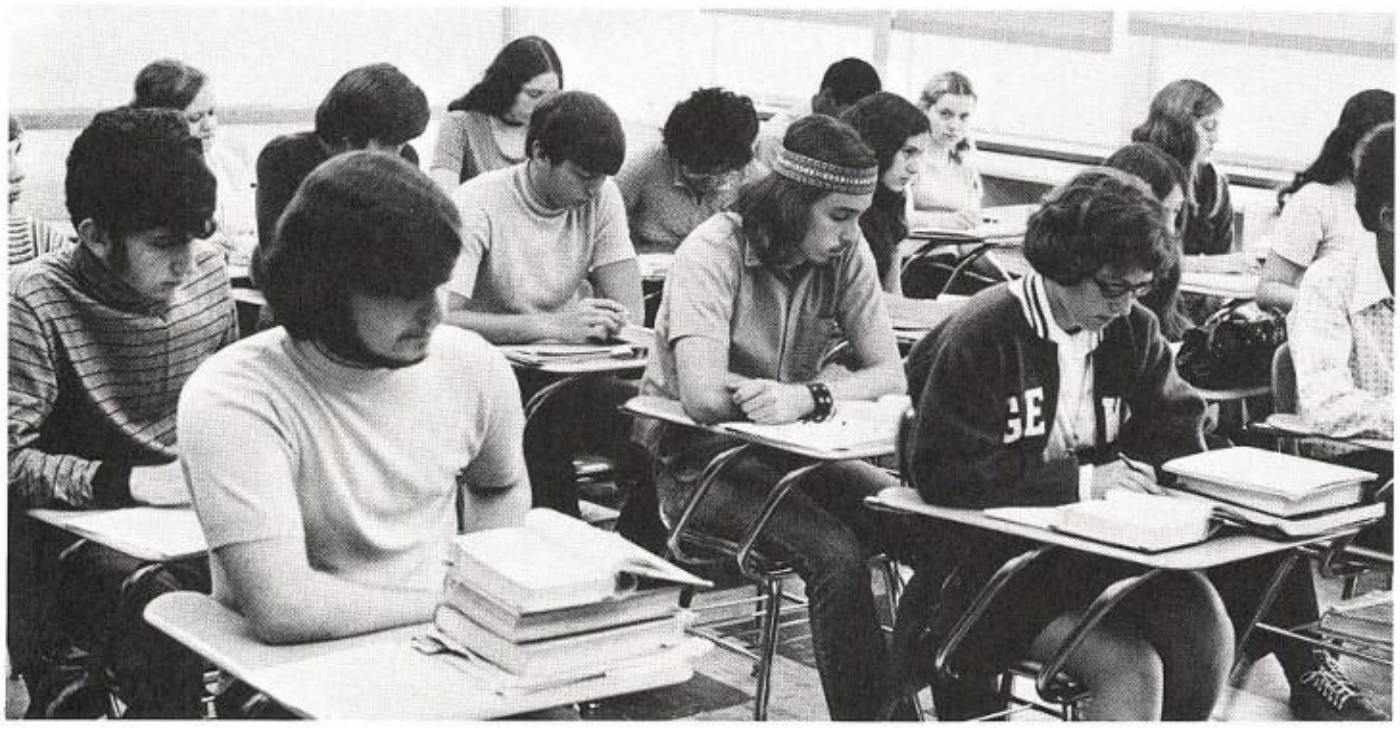
This is a class which seems earnest in its pursuit of knowledge.



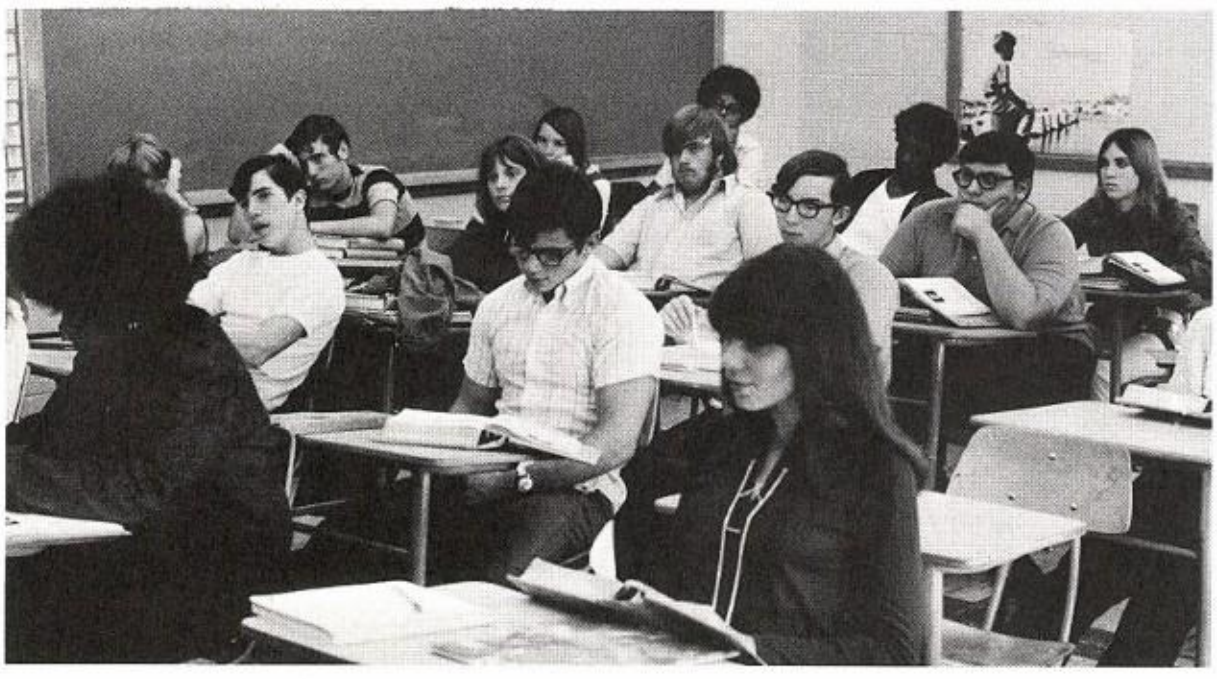
The arm of education is extended to one of the more receptive students.



It is clear that no outside distraction could disturb this well-trained class.



The students writhe with hysterical laughter at a witty remark from Miss Shepherd.



Norma Munoz ponders the lesson thoughtfully.

1971 SENIORS 1972

"Then the Busy Years Went Rushing by Us

We Lost Our Starry Notions on the Way

If by Change I'd See You in the Tavern,

We'd Smile at one Another and We'd Say . . .

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

Mr. Ford, the Senior Class Dedicates this Book to You . . .

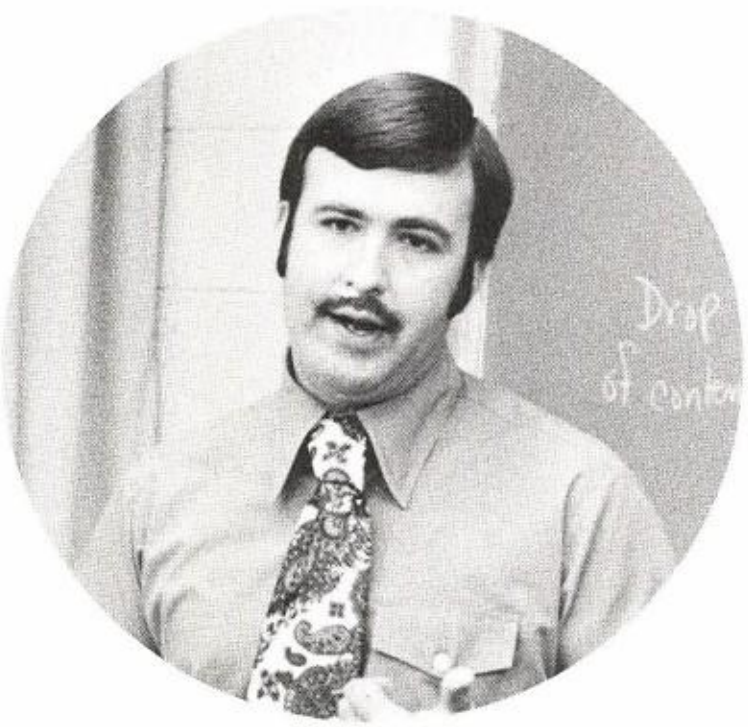
What is a teacher?

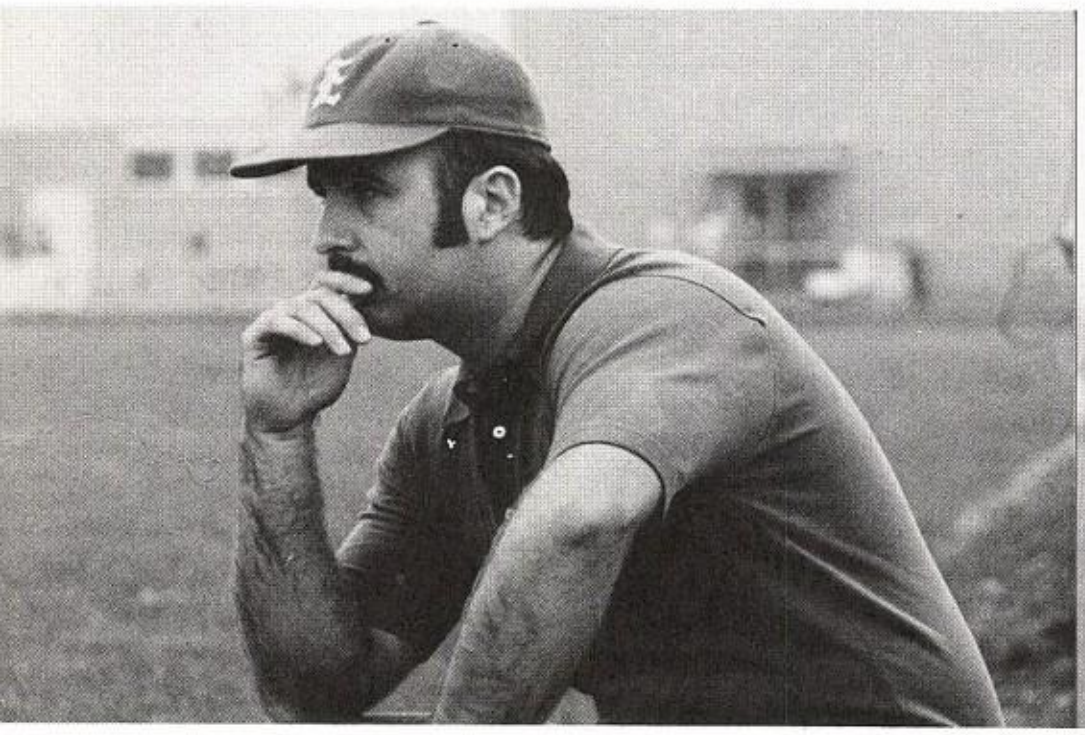
Actually, there are two definitions: First, a teacher can be a person who uses his knowledge and skills to increase the knowledge of others. Or, a teacher can be one who gives his time and love as well as his knowledge for the betterment of others. Mr. Wayne Ford fits into the second of these categories.

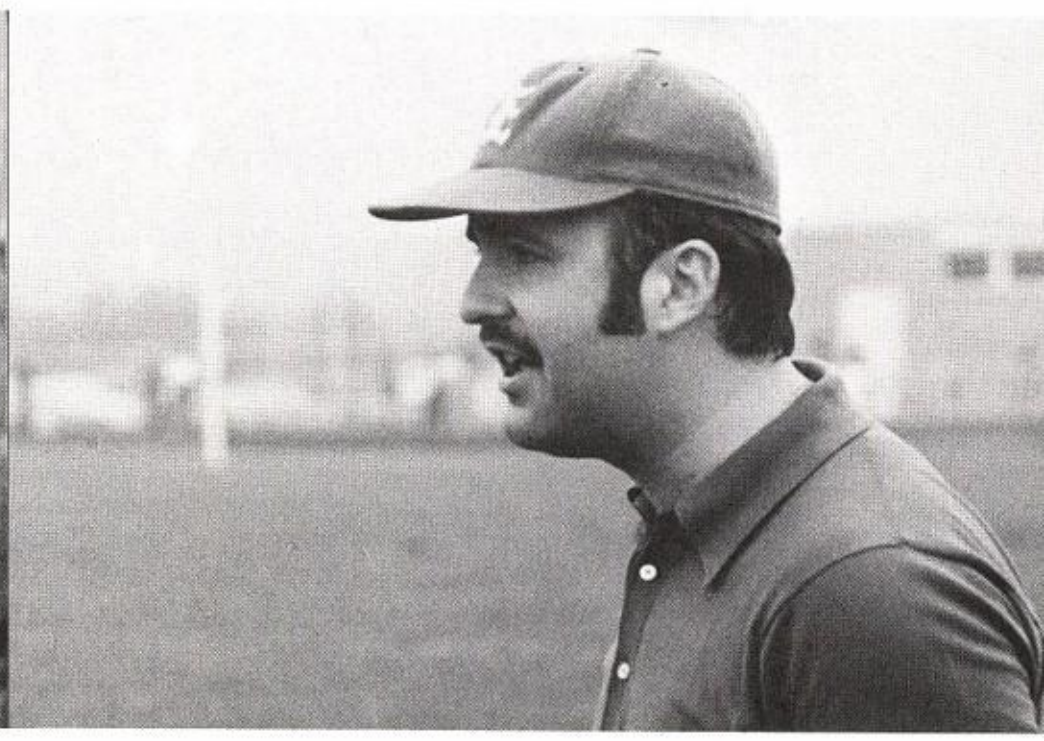
It is very hard to express our love and gratitude in just a few short paragraphs. Somehow, "thank you" just doesn't seem like quite enough for all the times you've been there when we needed you.

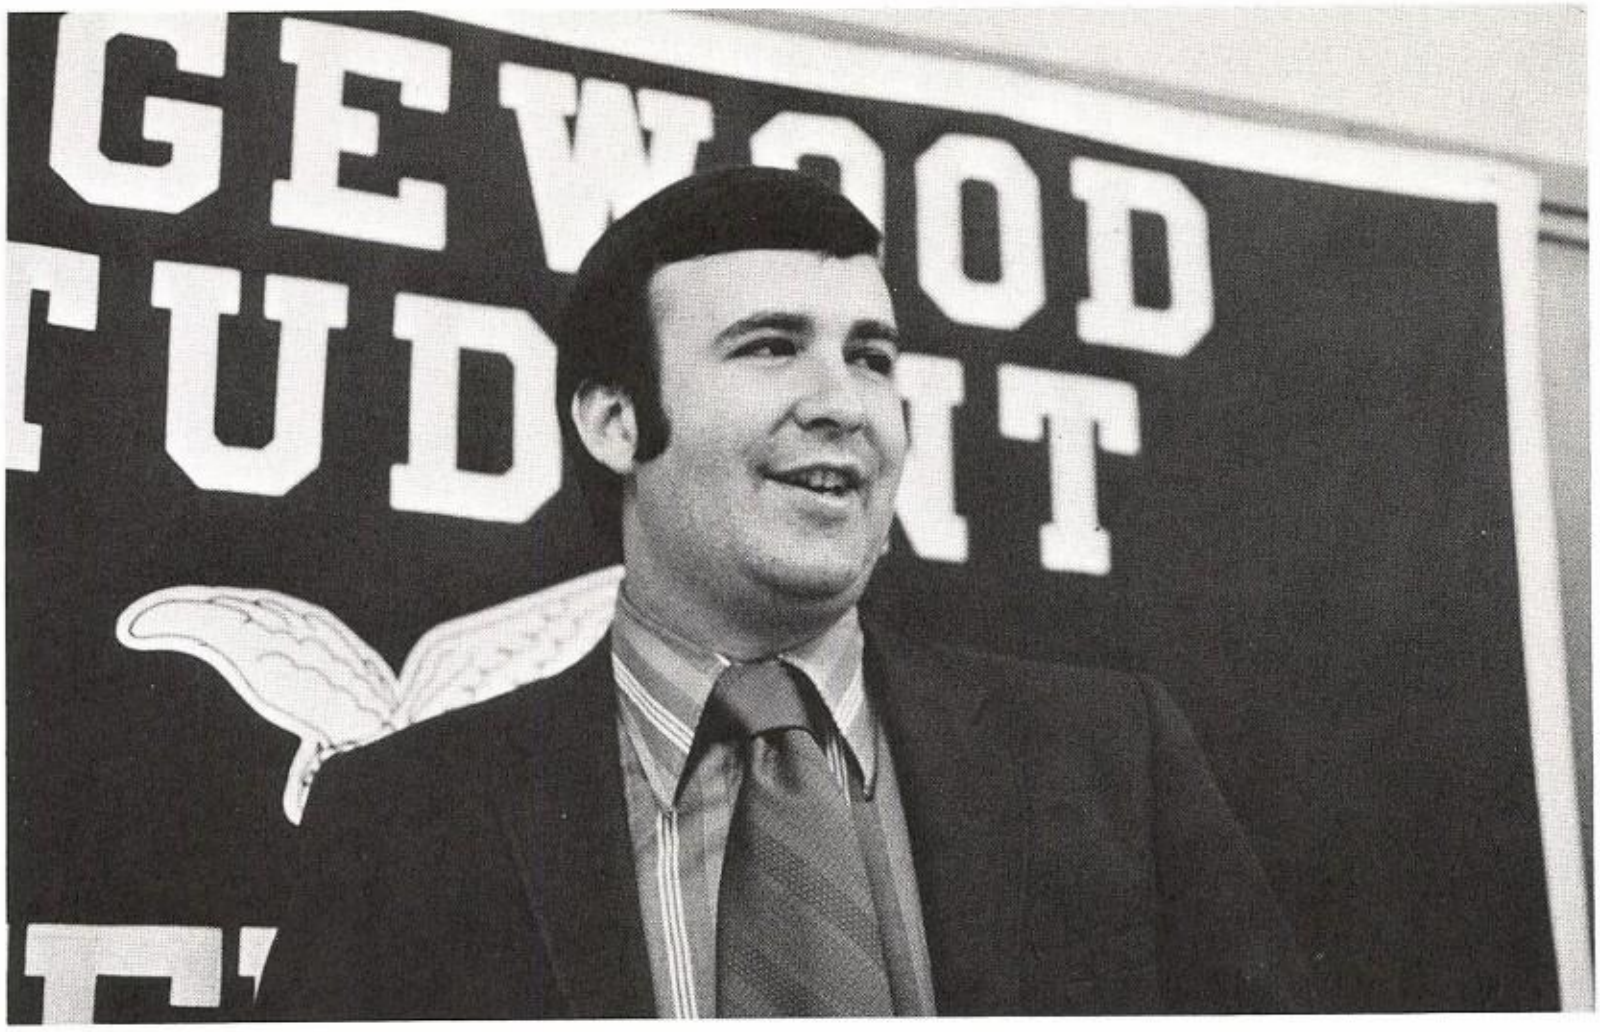
Someone once said that a man's life can be called a success if he has touched the life of even one person. So, Mr. Ford, your life so far has been a great success because you have touched us all. For this we will never forget you.

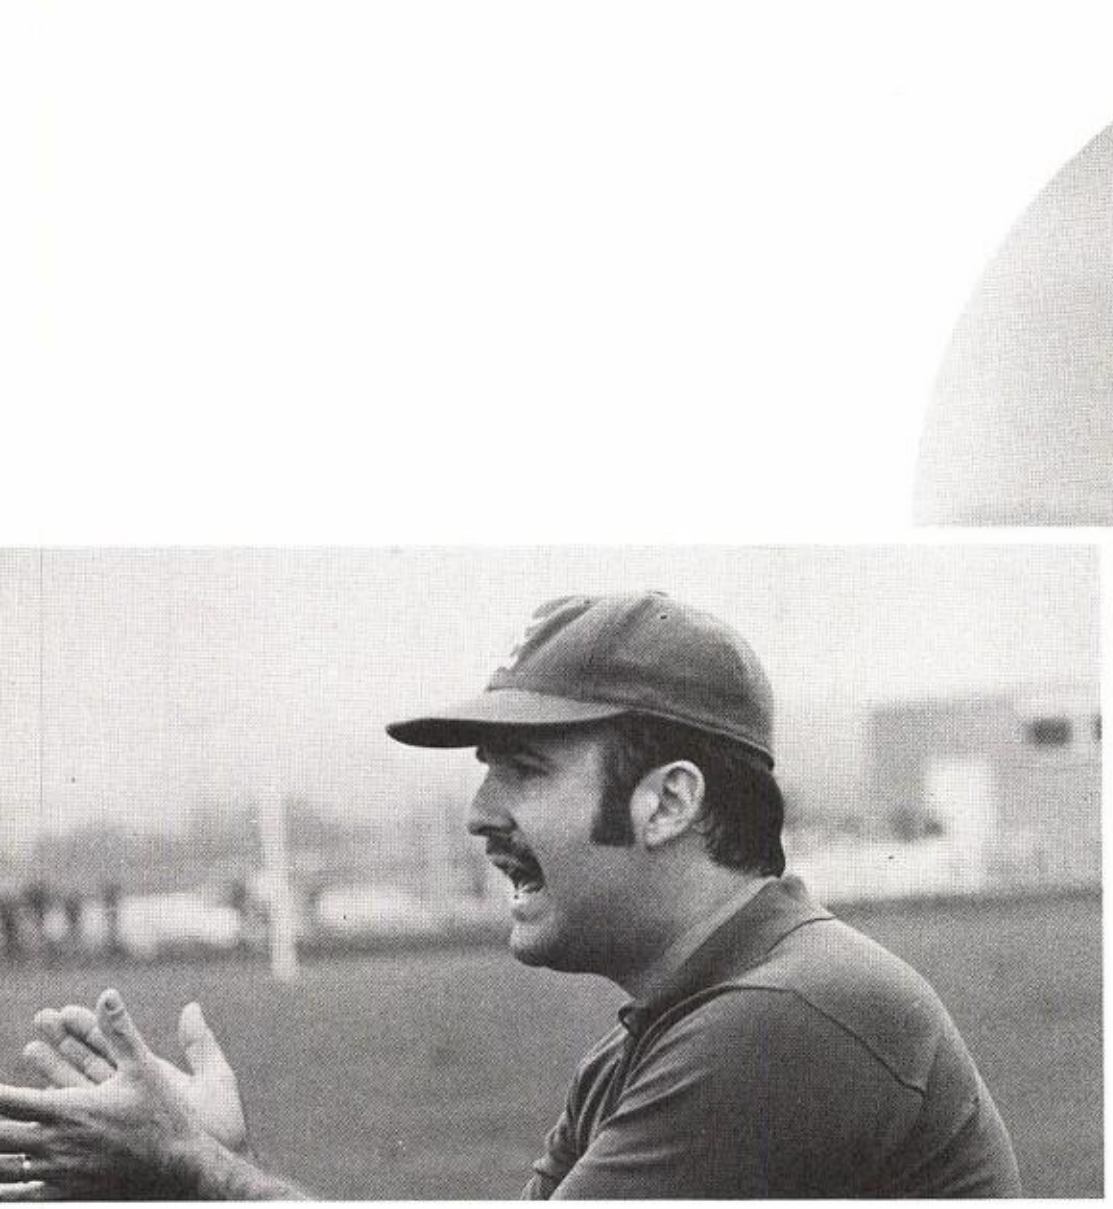
Very gratefully,
The Senior Class of 1972

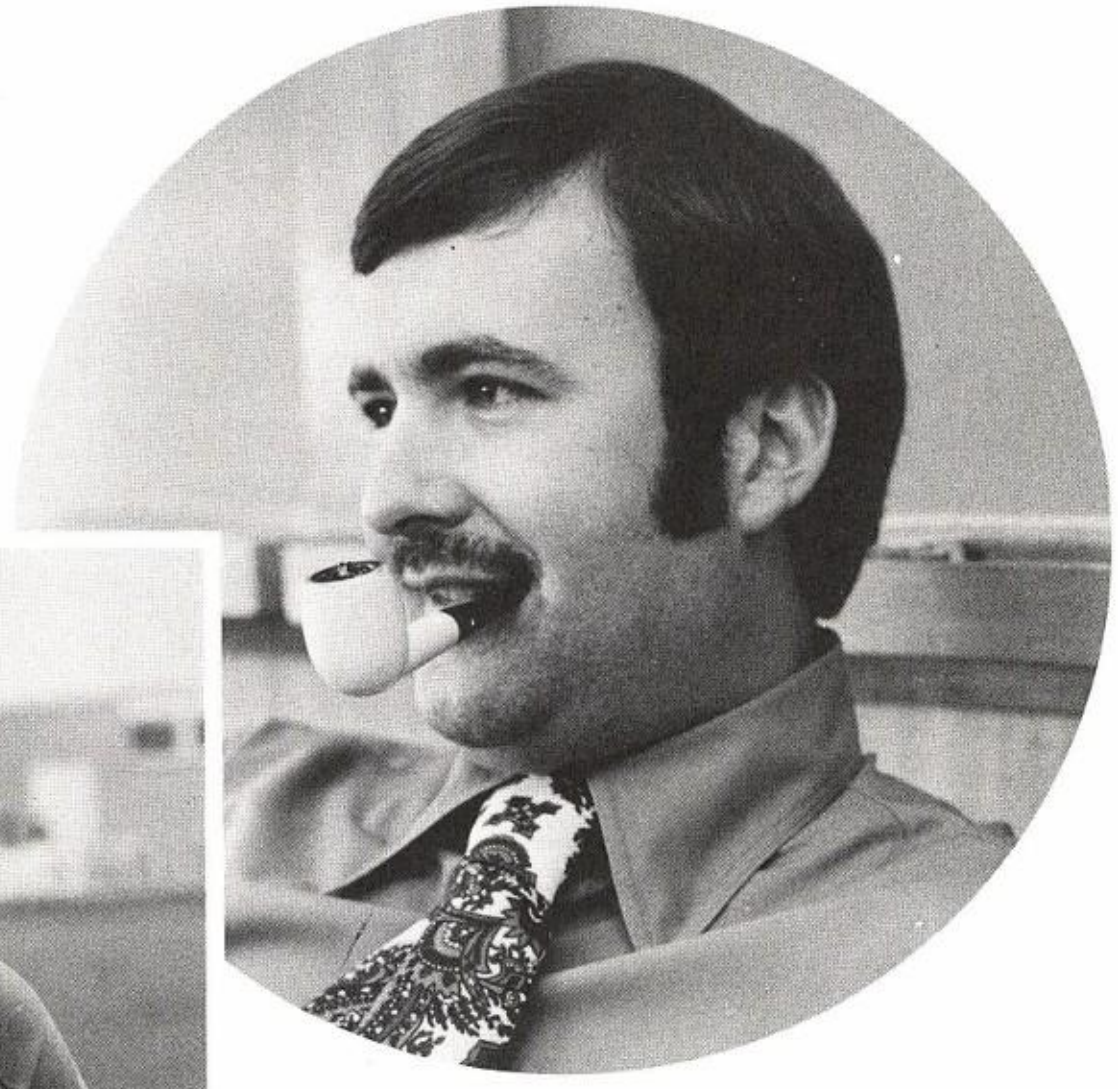












SENIOR POEM

Make Way For Us

Make way for us
We, the youth of today,
the leaders of tomorrow,
Are progressing in our way.

Make way for us,
Lend a light,
to guide us through our childhood
of never-ending nights.

Make way for us,
As we let you by,
Sometimes without respect,
But always with "Why?"

Make way for us,
Our time is near.
We saw you collapse
When your time was here.

Make way for us,
You've basked in your glory.
It was us who dug you out,
the disheartening story.

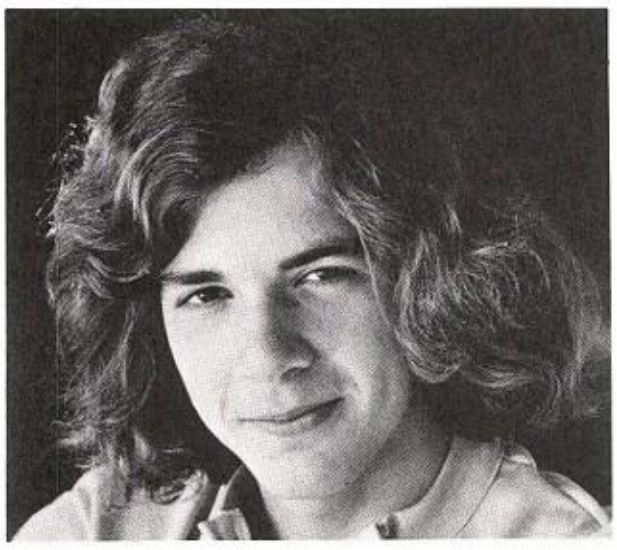
Make way for us
We have a duty as youth
to strive toward the better,
And prepare you for the truth.

Make way for us,
We're on the verge of unmasking
The preview of tomorrow,
Your show for the asking.

We are promised all history
And will shape it thus.
We're the youth of today,
Make way for us.

Sheila Hull

THE BIG BOSSES OF THE CLASS OF '72

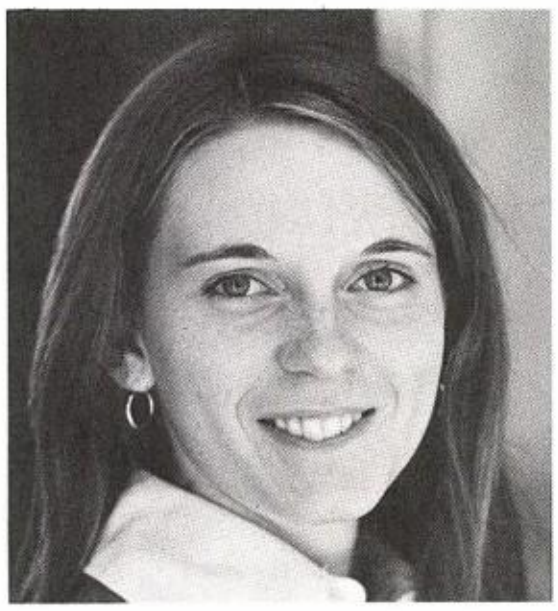


Mike Fernandez, class president

Fellow Seniors:

The time is almost upon us, the time we have strived for all through the years; graduation, and our subsequent release into either the working world or the world of higher education. All our years spent here at Edgewood have been directed towards that goal, towards providing us with the necessary knowledge, maturity, and responsibility to cope with that world. Many of us have succeeded admirably in that direction — my congratulations. Others, however, have not; I have become more and more appalled by the number of seniors who don't even exhibit the maturity levels of the average ninth or tenth grader. Are these the people who are going to hold down jobs and go to college, rear future generations, in the years to come? Let us hope we have the flexibility to adjust, and quickly. Let us hope that the Supreme Being, whoever He is, blesses us all — we're going to need it. Good luck to the upcoming Juniors — may you succeed where we have failed.

Sincerely,
Michael Fernandez
Sr. Class President



Robin Fuhrer — Treasurer, Lori Stella — Vice President. Not pictured — Grace Maccarella — Secretary.
